Rationale for Investing

Investment Rationale

The new US $ Capital Protected Dividend Aristocrats Bond 6 offers investors the opportunity to participate in the dividend income and growth performance of some of the leading dividend paying U.S. companies whilst, at the same time, protecting the USD $ investment from potential capital loss. Dividend stocks can provide investors with a combination of capital gains and regular cash flow. Thus investors in blue chip dividend paying stocks have two ways to make a return:

1. Capital Gains: The stock price goes up, so shares are worth more than when they were bought.
2. Dividends: The company rewards its shareholders with regular dividend payments.

The returns from this bond are linked to the performance of the S&P 500 Dividend Aristocrats Daily Risk Control 8% Index USD Excess Return (SPXD8UE Index). This Excess Return* index only selects companies that have increased their dividends each and every year for at least the last 25 years in a row. As the index currently yields around 2.6% in annual dividends and with dividend growth averaging c. 10% p.a., this is likely to contribute to potential returns.

Many investors are increasingly turning to reliable dividend paying stocks. History has shown that dividends have been a very important component of overall return in a diversified investment portfolio. Remarkably, some studies have concluded that over 101 years a portfolio which reinvested dividends would have generated nearly 85 times more wealth than relying solely on capital gains. In addition paying regular dividends can also instill a level of conservatism within company management whom usually consider maintaining or increasing the dividend level as a priority, given the negative signal that cutting a dividend would send to the market regarding future growth prospects. Cantor Fitzgerald Ireland Ltd. expects that dividends will continue to make up a large portion of the stock market's overall return. Many investors are looking for capital appreciation with the added security of capital protection in USD $, which this new bond provides.

Structuring this Bond in USD $ also allows investors to take advantage of considerably higher interest rates available in the US. Using higher USD $ interest rates enables the product to buy a much higher level of index options than would be possible in a EUR denominated investment bond and it can also provide for a shorter investment term. However, any Euro based investors are potentially exposed to significant EUR/USD currency risk. While all capital and returns will be repaid into clients Cantor Fitzgerald Ireland Ltd. accounts in USD $, by investing in a USD $ denominated product any EUR based investors are potentially exposed to EUR/USD currency movements over the investment term which could be significant.

Why Invest in Dividend Growth Stocks?

Dividends Can Grow: The S&P 500 Dividend Aristocrats Index selects companies that have consistently increased their dividends year on year for at least twenty five years.

Stock Prices tend to follow dividend growth over time: So dividend growth is not only important for income, but also for capital appreciation.

Dividends Are a Major Portion of Returns: Over the long term dividends have been a significant contributor to the returns produced by equities. When an investor holds a stock for a reasonable time frame, a growing dividend becomes an increasingly significant value creator when compared to what was originally paid for the shares. The yield on your original investment can multiply as dividends are increased over time. Multiple expansion (an increase in the stock price earnings ratio) tends to be a less significant contributor to long term returns.

Financial Strength: The regular payment of a dividend can impose a discipline on a company which may lead to a level of conservatism in the management of a company's financials. As a result, companies which pay dividends typically may be relatively stable, financially strong and well managed businesses. The payment of a dividend can be a signal of a company's financial strength and confidence in its future growth prospects. Therefore it is not surprising that history has shown that companies that continually raise their dividend not only have outperformed the broader market index, but have done so with less risk (volatility) as measured by standard deviation*.

An Inflation Hedge: Investing in stocks that increase their dividend regularly has historically proven to be a good hedge against inflation, especially compared to investments which offer a fixed income stream over the life of the investment. In an inflationary environment, holders of fixed income securities or fixed rate term deposits can face sharp losses in the value of their purchasing power because the interest payments are not growing enough in a period where prices are escalating. However, if a stock's dividend is growing at a rate equal to or faster than inflation, the loss of purchasing power can be prevented. Over time the income received from dividend payments has protected the value of investments from inflation.

Lower Volatility: The constituents of the Dividend Aristocrats indices have a broad-based appeal in bull or bear markets. In a bull market, these stocks tend to rise in tandem with the broader averages. And when the market slumps, investors are inclined to sell other stocks and hang on to their dividend-paying stocks as buy-and-hold investments. That means they're somewhat less subject to the wild price swings that other stocks have generated in recent years. The reinvestment of dividends during stock market declines has also been shown to lessen the time necessary to recoup portfolio losses.

Demographics: Importantly, the return on the S&P Dividend Aristocrats Index includes the dividend income from the companies that make up the Index. Dividend-paying stocks have attractive investment and income qualities, and with increasing numbers of the baby boom generation (generation born between 1946-1960) shifting into retirement this could increase demand for retirement income via dividend-paying stocks in future years.

The Impact of Reinvesting Dividends: Over the long term, the return from dividends has been a significant contributor to the overall returns produced by equity securities. In their book, *Triumph of the Optimists: 101 Years of Global Investment Returns Elroy Dimson, Paul Marsh, and Mike Staunton examined the respective contributions to returns provided by capital gains and dividends over the last century from the year 1900 to 2000. They discovered that long-term returns were largely driven by reinvested dividends.

Earnings Quality: The ability to pay cash dividends can be a positive factor in assessing the underlying health of a company and the quality of its earnings. This is particularly pertinent in light of the complexity of corporate accounting and numerous recent examples of "earnings management", including occasionally fraudulent earnings manipulation. While no investment is without risk, companies that are committed to paying dividends typically may have better business models, stronger balance sheets and a higher degree of confidence in their secular growth capabilities. While there is no guarantee that dividend-paying companies will continue to pay dividends, all of those characteristics historically have helped these companies' stocks to outperform in difficult and volatile times.

The Dividend Aristocrats Index Constituents:

S&P 500 Dividend Aristocrats Indices measure the performance of S&P 500 companies that have increased dividends every year for the last 25 consecutive years. The Index treats each constituent as a distinct investment opportunity without regard to its size by equally weighting each company. Constituent weights are reset every quarter, with the qualifying universe reviewed once a year in January.

How Would This Bond Have Performed In The Past?

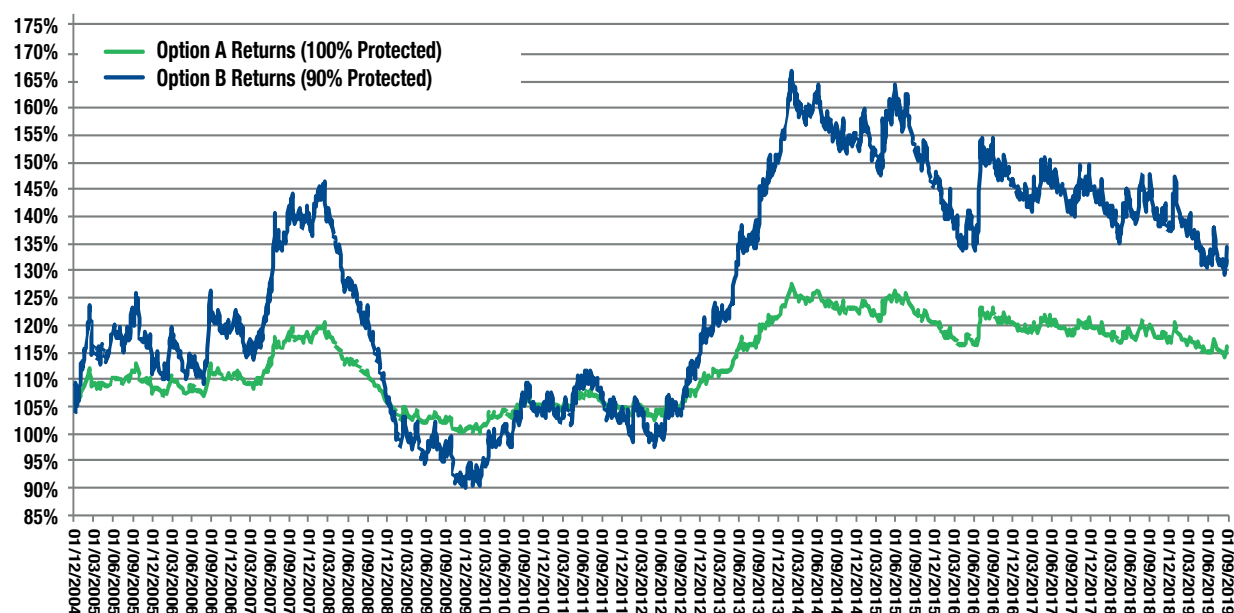

In order to demonstrate how the Bond would have performed had it been purchased in the past, a series of tests were carried out to determine the Bond's 'Simulated Past Performance'. The exact parameters of the Bond were applied to historic daily prices of the S&P 500 Dividend Aristocrats Daily Risk Control 8% Index USD Excess Return (SPXD8UE Index), from the 1st January 2000 to the 2nd September 2019. This produced 3849 observable 4 year 11 month rolling periods ending between the 1st December 2004 and the 2nd September 2019. We note past performance is not a reliable indicator of future returns. We would also like to caution investors that 10% of the US $ capital invested in Option B is at risk of loss at maturity.

Historical longer term back testing produced the following results in USD $:

- The average investment return on Option A was +13.13%.
- The average investment return on Option B was +26.76%.
- The maximum returns achieved was +27.33% on Option A (5.03% AER). The maximum return on Option B was +66.53% or (10.92% AER), (90% capital protected amount +76.53%).
- The Minimum Returns achieved were 0% on Option A and -10% on Option B.
- Please note all returns and capital protected amounts in this bond are in USD $.

We have graphically illustrated the longer term back testing results in the charts below:

Back tested 4 Year 11 Month % Rolling Returns (including original capital invested) on hypothetical investments in USD $ made from 1st January 2000 - 26th August 2015 - (Last Maturity 26th May 2019).

Key Features - How Does This Bond Work?

This Bond is denominated in USD $ and matures after an investment term of 4 Years 11 Months. At the Final Maturity Date investors will receive their relevant capital protected amount in USD $ and the relevant final averaged index return also payable in USD $. Cantor Fitzgerald Ireland Ltd. will convert any EUR € investment amounts into USD $ at prevailing exchange rates before the Start Date. Investors in the Bond have 2 capital protected Options:

Option A: 100% capital protection and a potential gross return of 50% of the final averaged performance of the underlying Index in USD $.

Option B: 90% capital security and a potential gross return of 140% of the final averaged performance of the underlying Index in USD $.

Underlying Strategy of the Investment: The possible appreciation of the S&P 500 Dividend Aristocrats Daily Risk Control 8% Index USD Excess Return (SPXD8UE Index). This index only selects US companies that have increased their dividends each and every year for at least the last 25 years in a row. As the index currently yields around 2.6% in annual dividends, this is likely to contribute to potential returns.

Risk Control:

Risk control is the systematic management of assets through continual rebalancing between a risky asset holding (in this case the Dividend Aristocrats Stocks) and cash holdings. The S&P 500 Dividend Aristocrats Daily Risk Control 8% Index USD Excess Return (SPXD8UE Index) manages risk by using a mathematical formula which systematically reduces its exposure to the underlying Dividend Aristocrats stocks in times of high volatility, and systematically increases exposure to the Dividend Aristocrats stocks in times of low volatility. This risk control mechanism can have the effect of protecting investors from volatile downward markets by reducing losses. However, upon high volatility The Index exposure to the Dividend Aristocrats stocks may reduce significantly below 100% and it could also potentially cause some underperformance versus the Dividend Aristocrats stocks in rapidly rising markets.

The S&P 500 Dividend Aristocrats Daily Risk Control 8% Index USD Excess Return (SPXD8UE Index) volatility control mechanism aims to maintain volatility close to 8%. In periods of low volatility, the index may increase exposure to the Dividend Aristocrats stocks up to a maximum level of 150%. The exposure of the Index to the Dividend Aristocrats stocks will be calculated and adjusted each day. The exposure will be calculated by dividing the target volatility (8%) by the actual volatility of the Dividend Aristocrats stocks recorded over the last 50 business days (i.e. $8\% \text{ target level} / \text{actual volatility}$). Exposure will be capped at a level of 150%. Please see the examples of this formula below and also in the box overleaf.

- If the volatility level (50 day average volatility) is above 8%, S&P temporarily reduce the exposure to the Dividend Aristocrats stocks (the risky assets) and S&P increase the exposure to the non-remunerated cash according to the formula below:
- When the volatility level (50 day average volatility) is below 8%, S&P temporarily increase the Dividend Aristocrats stocks (the risky assets) up to a maximum of 150% and S&P reduce the exposure to the non-remunerated cash according to the formula below:

Formula: Minimum (150%, Target Volatility / 50 day Realised Volatility).

WARNING: If at the Final Maturity Date the returns from the S&P 500 Dividend Aristocrats Daily Risk Control 8% Index USD Excess Return (SPXD8UE Index) are below 7.14%, flat or negative investors in Option B could lose up to 10% of their capital invested in USD $.

WARNING: The risk control mechanism can have the effect of protecting investors from volatile downward markets by reducing losses. However, upon high volatility the exposure to the underlying Dividend Aristocrats stocks may reduce significantly below 100% and this could cause some underperformance of the Dividend Aristocrats stocks in rapidly rising markets.

What is volatility: Volatility is a statistical measure of the range of values of returns for a security over time. A higher volatility means that a security's value can potentially be spread out over a larger range of values. This means that the price of the security can change dramatically over a short time period in either direction. A lower volatility means that a security's value does not fluctuate dramatically, but changes in value at a steady pace over a period of time. Commonly, the higher the volatility, the riskier the security. The 8% Target Volatility in the S&P 500 Dividend Aristocrats 8% Risk Controlled Index (SPXD8UE Index) would be considered relatively low volatility.

Formula: Minimum (150%, Target Volatility / 50 day Realised Volatility).

For example:

- When Volatility is 5% then (8% Target Volatility / 5% Realised Volatility) = 150.0% Index exposure.
- When Volatility is 6% then (8% Target Volatility / 6% Realised Volatility) = 133.3% Index exposure.
- When Volatility is 16% then (8% Target Volatility / 16% Realised Volatility) = 50.0% Index exposure.

Index Exposure & Bond Participation:

Option A & B Index Exposure = Min (150%, Target Volatility / Realised Volatility).

Option A Bond Participation = 50% Participation in Index returns (Index x 50%).

Option A Maximum Total Exposure = 75% (150% maximum Index leverage X 50% participation in Index).

Option B Additional Bond Participation = 140% Participation in Index returns (Index x 140%).

Option B Maximum Total Exposure = 210% (150% maximum Index leverage x 140% participation in Index).

In the case of Option A 100% of investors capital is protected at the Final Maturity Date by Societe Generale. In the case of Option B 90% of investors capital is protected at the Final Maturity Date by Societe Generale. Any negative returns, or the impact of participation in returns, or internal Index leverage will not reduce the relevant capital protected amount at the Final Maturity Date.

The S&P 500 Dividend Aristocrats 8% Risk Controlled Index (SPXD8UE Index) is an Excess Return Index: The performance of the Index is calculated net of the USD LIBOR 3-month rate.

Valuation Risk:

The value of this Bond may, during its lifetime, be lower than the amount of the capital invested. As a consequence, the investor may lose part, or all, of the invested amount if they choose to sell their investment before the Final Maturity Date. At the Final Maturity Date investors could lose up to 10% of their invested capital if returns are flat or negative. The underlying index will need to return more than 7.14% in order for this Bond to produce a positive return for investors in Option B.

Market Risk:

Before the Final Maturity Date, the value of this Bond is also subject to market risk, meaning it may at any time be subject to significant price movement, which may in certain cases lead to the loss of the entire amount invested. (Please see the "What risks should be considered before investing?" section on pages 15 & 16 for further details).

WARNING: The return of your US $ capital protected amount at the Final Maturity Date, as well as the US $ Investment Return, will be dependent on the solvency of SG Issuer as Issuer and Societe Generale S.A. as Guarantor, if either were to default you will lose some or all of your investment.

What Do The Credit Rating Letters Mean?

A credit rating is an evaluation of the credit worthiness of a debtor. The evaluation is made by a credit rating agency of the debtor's ability to pay back the debt and the likelihood of default. The credit rating represents the credit rating agency's evaluation of qualitative and quantitative information for a company or government, including information obtained by the credit rating agencies' analysts.

Credit ratings are used by bond buyers to determine the likelihood that the issuer will repay its bond obligations. Each agency uses its own individual rating methodology for measuring creditworthiness. Credit ratings can be subject to modification due to changes in the economy, business environment or other issues affecting a specific firm, industry or country.

The table below defines what the credit ratings from each agency actually mean.

What Risks Should Be Considered Before Investing?

Counterparty risk on SG Issuer as the Issuer and Societe Generale as Guarantor of the Senior Bonds:

By investing in the Bonds you take a credit risk to SG Issuer and Societe Generale, SG Issuer in its capacity as Issuer and Societe Generale as Guarantor. In the case of a default by SG Issuer or Societe Generale, investors have a senior claim to Societe Generale on the residual amount (if any) up to the nominal value of the Bond. Senior Debt is borrowed money that a company must repay first if it goes out of business. Senior Debt holders are most likely to be repaid, followed by junior debt holders, preferred stock holders and common stock holders. If a counterparty is unable to fulfil its contractual obligations to return funds to an investor this is known as a default. In the case of a Senior Debt default by SG Issuer or Societe Generale S.A. investors would receive the Recovery Value of the Bond. Please see pages 13 & 14 for further details on credit risk and the independent credit ratings of Societe Generale S.A. as the Guarantor of the Bond.

Return of US $ capital at Final Maturity Date:

- The relevant USD $ capital protected amount is returned to client's Cantor Fitzgerald Ireland Ltd. accounts at the Final Maturity Date and paid in US Dollars. The relevant US $ capital protection is provided by Societe Generale S.A. at the Final Maturity Date only. Investment returns, if any, are also payable in US Dollars and added to the relevant US Dollar capital protected amount. In the case of Option B, if the Index returns are below 7.14%, flat or negative investors could lose up to 10% of their USD $ capital invested. If you encash your funds before the Final Maturity Date you may get back less than the relevant capital protected amount.

WARNING: Should you chose to cash in your investment at any point before the Final Maturity Date, the relevant capital protection will not apply and you may get back significantly less than you invest.

Market risks:

- Stocks, foreign currencies and Indices are speculative in nature and future prices may trade lower than current prices. A U.S., European or global economic recession may result in stock, currency or financial markets weakening significantly. Global geo-political or climatic events can cause a disruption to markets. Corporate earnings could fall, dividend levels could decrease. Credit Ratings may change. Economic policies, taxation policy, interest rates or tax rates may change.
- Inflation may occur over the duration of your Investment and if the returns on your Investment are lower than the rate of inflation this will reduce what you could buy in the future.
- Investors may not receive any investment return so this investment may result in an opportunity cost where other assets or other currencies generate a higher return on investment.
- This Bond may be subject to significant price movement at any time before the Final Maturity Date, which may in certain cases lead to the loss of your entire capital invested.

WARNING: If at the Final Maturity Date the returns from the S&P 500 Dividend Aristocrats Daily Risk Control 8% Index USD Excess Return (SPXD8UE Index) in USD $ are below 7.14%, flat or negative investors in Option B could lose up to 10% of their US $ capital invested.

Volatility risk:

- Foreign currencies, indices, commodities, bonds and equity markets can all be particularly volatile and can be influenced by global economic growth, geo political risks, wars, economic sanctions, currency exchange rate movements, consumption patterns, technological developments, interest rates, market disruptions and also speculative trading. Please see page 11 for a definition of volatility.
- The risk control mechanism could cause outperformance in rapidly falling markets but could also potentially cause underperformance in rapidly rising markets.
- The Index is Excess Return and calculated net of the USD Libor 3-month rate. If the USD Libor 3-month rate increases the Index performance may be affected.

Liquidity risk:

- Societe Generale aims to provide a secondary market for the Bond during the investment term. However, certain exceptional market circumstances may have a negative effect on the liquidity of the Bond, and even render the Bond entirely illiquid, which may make it impossible to sell the Bond before the Final Maturity Date and result in the partial or total loss of your initial capital invested. It is envisaged that investors will hold the Bond for the full 4 year 11 month term and all investors should consider the term before investing.

No other liquid market:

- Societe Generale will be the sole provider of a secondary market for the Bond. There is no other liquid market on which this Bond can be easily traded and this may have a material adverse effect on the price at which the Bond may be sold. As a consequence, you may lose part or all of your initial capital invested if you redeem the investment early. In extremely volatile market conditions encashments may not be possible.

WARNING: If you invest in this product you may not have access to your money for 4 years 11 months.

Risk to Returns:

- The returns on the Bond are in USD $ and also dependent on the final averaged performance of the S&P 500 Dividend Aristocrats Daily Risk Control 8% Index USD Excess Return (SPXD8UE Index) in USD $, which in turn depends on the performance of the underlying Dividend Aristocrats stocks, returns of which are not certain. There is no guarantee that the Investment will achieve the estimated or anticipated returns illustrated in this document, that it will achieve the returns achieved in the past or that it will achieve any investment return at all.

Currency Risk

- This investment is in US Dollars (USD $), the entire amount of investors capital and all returns are denominated in US $ Dollars. This exposes any EUR € based investors to potential currency risks as they will be entirely exposed to any movements in the EUR/USD exchange rate over the investment term. As this is a medium term investment currency movements could be substantial and have a significant effect on non USD based investor returns.

No recourse to any compensation scheme (or similar):

- In the event of a default of SG Issuer and Societe Generale your investment will not be covered by any Compensation Schemes.

Risk of product withdrawal:

- If the volume of funds raised for the Bond is insufficient to proceed, or exceeds any pre hedged amounts, or in the event of extreme market volatility, Cantor Fitzgerald Ireland Ltd., at its sole discretion and without notice, may withdraw the product, or cease to accept applications for it and return the relevant amounts invested to clients without interest.

Hedging risk:

- After the receipt of a completed application form or an instruction to invest in the Bond, any investor or potential investor who then subsequently decides not to proceed with, or to withdraw from the investment for any reason whatsoever, either before or after the Issue date of 2nd December 2019, may then be entirely liable for any hedging costs, breakage costs or bid offer spreads which were incurred by Cantor Fitzgerald Ireland Ltd. in unwinding the position for the investor.

Risk regarding deductions during the life of the Bonds:

- Deductions for charges and expenses are not made uniformly throughout the life of the Bond, but are loaded disproportionately onto the early period. If an investor sells the Bond prior to the end of the 4 year 11 month term, the practice of front-end loading will impact on the amount of money that the investor receives. The investor may not get back the full amount they invested.

Early Redemption Risk:

- Prior to the Final Maturity Date, the value of the Bond may be lower than the original investment amount. As a consequence, the investor may lose part or the entire invested amount if the Bond is sold before the Final Maturity Date.

Summary Risk Indicator:

- Option A of this product is a low risk USD product and its Summary Risk Indicator (SRI) is classified as 2 out of 7 for USD investors, which is the second-lowest risk class. Option B of this product is also a low risk USD product and its Summary Risk Indicator is classified at 2 out of 7 for USD investors.

WARNING: Should you chose to cash in your investment at any point before the Final Maturity Date, the relevant capital protection will not apply and you may get back significantly less than you invest.

Investors should refer to the KID (Key Information Document), the prospectus and final terms associated to this Bond before making any investment in the product.

The KID document is available at cantorfitzgerald.ie/private-clients/structured-investments/

How does this Bond work?
